Plane Crashes With 132 GIs Aboard

LATIMORE ARRIVES AT COURT—Far Eastern expert Owen Latimore, accompanied by his wife, arrives at Federal District court in Washington, where he was arraigned on a seven-count perjury indictment growing out of his testimony before the senate internal security sub-committee last winter. If convicted on all counts he would be liable to a maximum penalty of 70 years in jail.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—You can't buy Santa Claus. The true spirit of Christmas isn't for sale.

But that doesn't keep a lot of people from trying to do it every year.

One of the absurdities of the current season is the report that $30 neckties of velvet and gold are having a brisk sale in North Carolina. They are designed to be given as presents for "men who have everything already."

It would depress me if someone sent me such a necktie and, if you were planning to do so, please send me such a necktie and, if you thing I hate a bargain basement gesture. Anyone who sends you a $50 necktie isn't trying to please you so much as he is trying to impress you.

And only a piker would be impressed by a $50 necktie today. After all there are $150 neckties on the market. Who wants to be bought cheap?

The evidence of what money cannot do is all about us. And one of the times you see this best is at Christmas. Many a wife who gets a $4,000 fur coat from her husband would rather know the warmth of his old love again than the warmth of his gift.

What makes a real Christmas present? The thought and understanding behind it. Only that kindles the bonfire of the heart, not the number of dollars spent. This is particularly true of children, whose rich relatives often try vainly to make them happy with costly gifts but fail because they do not know there is a better way.

I remember as a child a poor little rich boy who lived up the street in a fine apartment building came to our house on Christmas morning.

"What did you get?" he said.

"An orange, a sweater, a sled," I said, "and"—I held up a squirming puppy—

The rich kid went crazy over the puppy, and we played with it for a long time. Later we went up to see his presents. The floor was covered with toys—fancy electric trains, chemistry sets, an indoor golf course—and all were expensive. I felt a kind of dumb wonder, there were so many.

The other kid, his dad and I got down on the floor and began opening the electric train. Suddenly the little rich boy looked up and his face crinkled in passionate crying.

"Daddy, why couldn't I have a puppy, too?" he wept. "It's what I asked for."

Billy Graham Praises U. S. Korean Troops

SEOUL (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham today gathered a dozen GIs around a microphone in Seoul to tell American radio listeners that U. S. troops in Korea form "the most compassionate army in history."

On a Christmas program, Graham told of what he had seen in his first week on this war-torn peninsula.

Said Graham: "You have heard stories of corruption and vice in the ranks, and there is no denying that there is plenty. But by and large," he declared, "I believe our men are doing an excellent job of representing America."

Graham then interviewed briefly army and air force enlisted men who told about Christmas work in their units and wished Merry Christmas to their families at scattered points in the U. S.

The program was recorded on tape in San Francisco and will be integrated into Graham's weekly, half-hour American Broadcasting Company program, which goes on the air in the U. S. on Sunday afternoon.

Mississippi Has Siamese Twins; Both Are Healthy

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's Siamese twins, similar to the Brodie twins of Chicago, are healthy and growing, Dr. Fred M. Sandifer said today.

The two boys, John L. Flowers and John Ed Flowers, are the first children of Roosevelt and Maybelle Flowers, negroes. The twins are joined at the head in almost the exact manner that the Brodie twins were connected, the doctor said.

The Flowers twins were born in August and are quite healthy and apparently normal in all respects, Dr. Sandifer declared.

Brodie Twins Still 'Critical'

Specialists Keep Vigil At Hospital

Roger Unconscious; Fear Complications To End Lives of Pair

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brodie Siamese twins today passed the sixty-first hour of life since they were separated in an unprecedented operation.

The tiny, 15 month old boys still were alive but their condition was critical.

Doctors and nurses attending them maintained an anxious vigil in the Illinois Neurosurgical Institute.

Portions of the brains of the twins were exposed during the 12 hour and 40 minute surgical marathon that gave them separate lives. A spokesman for the University of Illinois said there has been some

MOTHER ERIE NATIVE
The mother of the Brodie twins is a former Whiteside county resident. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Hofmeister of Erie and herself an Erie native. Erie is along Rt. 2 southwest of Starling.

leakage of spinal fluid, but not much. One of the major functions of this fluid is to provide a cushion for the brain. The spokesman said a loss of such fluid is to be expected and the amount lost through leakage so far has not been large enough to be important.

The brains of the boys—Roger and Rodney—have a three-ply protective covering—a coating of a plastic substance, a layer of aluminum foil and gauze bandages that are wrapped about the heads in turban fashion.

Surgeons are greatly concerned about the possibility of cerebral edema or cerebral anoxemia. A spokesman reported that, if the twins do die, the deaths most likely will be caused by one or the other of these possible developments.

In cerebral edema cases an excessive amount of body fluids accumulate in the brain. Cerebral anoxemia is a lack of oxygen in the brain.

Another source of worry is that spinal fluid in the brains, coming into contact with the plastic covering, may lead to an infection and that may lead, in turn, to spinal meningitis.

But there was one hopeful note. Rodney, the stronger twin, is starting to respond to nurses when they talk to him.

The chief nurse held up a pencil before Rodney during the night and asked: "What's this?"

Rodney, a natural mimic, repeated the words, "What's this?"

But, the spokesman cautioned, attending doctors say Rodney is not yet past his "first hurdle."

Park Ridge Rallies to Side of Polio Victim Facing Eviction; Raise Funds

CHICAGO (AP)—The Christmas spirit was evident in suburban Park Ridge Friday and happiness came to a 37-year-old woman polio victim facing eviction from her home.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kitmiller, who is almost completely paralyzed from polio, and is confined to an iron lung, faces eviction for non-payment of rent to her mother-in-law.

In the first day after the story of the eviction order, friends and neighbors contributed more than $500 to the stricken woman.

Ordered to Vacate
She and her son, James H. III, 6, and her parents have been ordered to vacate from a six-room bungalow in 90 days. The eviction order was obtained by Mrs. Marion Kitmiller, 50 of Evanston, for failure to pay $95 a month rent.

The Park Ridge Lions club started the fund with a $150 contribution. Police Chief Willis F. Jones said more than $600 had been raised, including $201 turned in by a woman who canvassed a neighborhood.

The Rev. George Green of the suburb's Community church, said a group of residents would ask Mayor Alfred Haake to organize a community-wide effort on behalf of the stricken woman. He said he hopes enough money could be raised to buy the house "so Mrs. Kitmiller won't have to move."

Serenade Victim
Friday night the Park Ridge Men's Chorus serenaded the polio victim with Christmas songs. Earlier, a fully trimmed Christmas tree was brought to the home.

Mrs. Kitmiller, in an iron lung most of the time since she was stricken Aug. 16, 1951, has pending a separate maintenance suit against her husband, James H. III, 28. She charged him with desertion. His cross-bill for divorce alleges adultery, a charge she denies.

Hold Second Suspect for Brink's Theft

G-Men Work Under Wraps in Solving Record Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—The FBI today reportedly has in custody a second man identified as a participant in the $1,219,000 Brink's holdup.

Reports Friday night said FBI affidavits named the unidentified man as having been in the group of hooded gunmen who escaped with the largest American cash haul after tying up five employees in the armored car firm's vaults on Jan. 17, 1960.

In Custody
The man is described as 37 years old and having a long record. He is said to be in custody of the FBI but not necessarily in a penal institution. The inference was drawn that the man might "talk."

But U. S. Atty. George F. Garity had no comment. First sworn affidavits, made available Thursday night, named Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, 44, of Boston as one of the Brink's robbers. But since then, all papers having any connection with the holdup have been removed from files and hidden.

Crack Alibi
It also was reported in the Federal building, where a grand jury is investigating the slugging, that FBI agents have cracked an alibi of O'Keefe, who has been cited by the jury for contempt in refusing to answer questions.

The Boston man has told police that on the night of the robbery he was drinking with a woman companion in an uptown hotel.

The number of reluctant witnesses cited on contempt charges by the grand jury for refusing to answer questions rose to 11 Friday with the naming of two more persons.

The jury submitted presentations to U. S. Judge William T. McCarthy naming Thomas F. Richardson, a longshoreman, and Vincent Costa, a furniture mover.

Delay Citations
The contempt citations against Richardson and Costa were continued until next Tuesday, along with the earlier cases of Adolph "Jazz" Maffie, 41, and John W. Daley, 32.

C-124 Burns; Death Toll Not Known

Big Transport Bears Military Personnel On Homeward Trip

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (AP)—A huge military transport plane with 132 persons aboard crashed and burned on take-off from Larson Air Force base today an air force spokesman said. "Some persons got out alive."

The C-124, biggest U. S. military plane in service, was destroyed by the gasoline-fed flames soon after the crash shortly before 5:30 a.m. (CST).

Larson officials said the giant transport was on a "routine training flight" and was eastbound with hitch-hiking military passengers heading home on leave.

A Globemaster normally carries a crew of about a dozen.

The spokesman said "some got out and some didn't get out," but he was unable to estimate the number of casualties at the moment.

The C-124, big as a five-room house and capable of carrying as many as 300 fully-equipped combat troops, crashed off the runway just after it had become airborne from this Eastern Washington base.

The cause was not known. Gasoline spilled from ruptured wing tanks and flashed into flames. Firefighting and rescue crews rushed to the scene but were unable to save those trapped in the wreckage.

Cop Cleared of Conspiracy to Extort $5,000

CHICAGO (AP)—A suspended Chicago policeman has been cleared by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals of conspiracy to extort $5,000 from Paul "Peanuts" Pancake, convict serving time in Tennessee.

The appeals court decision Friday reversed a federal conviction of Thomas J. Moloney, 29, Moloney and Peter M. Foley, also a former Chicago policeman, had been charged with conspiracy and with mailing letters to Pancake, 30, asking $5,000 or they would harm his family.

Moloney had been sentenced Dec. 27, 1961, to a five-year prison term but the sentence was stayed, pending outcome of the appeal.

Pancake now is serving a 15 to 18 year sentence in the Tennessee state prison for his part in a $100,000 Nashville jewel robbery in March, 1960.

The appeals court ruled "there was no sufficient relevant evidence against appellant Moloney to sustain the charge of conspiracy."

Foley is serving a 10 year prison sentence at the Terre Haute, Ind., federal penitentiary, as a result of his conviction.

Convicted of Lyons Robbery

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal court jury Friday convicted George J. Ellis, 27, of Chicago of participating in the $39,998 robbery Aug. 1 of the Bank of Lyons, Ill.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes will set sentence Monday.

Ellis faces a possible maximum penalty of 25 years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

He was indicted Sept. 12 with three others for the robbery. One of the three has been ruled insane and the other two are fugitives.

Motorists Warned To Be Cautious Over Weekend

Motorists might be able to "call the bluff" of rather threatening skies today, tonight and tomorrow, according to state police reports.

Although skies will be overcast, police do not expect road conditions to be as hazardous as those Friday. However, drivers are warned to use extreme caution on wet roads.

Dixon area motorists experienced a few hazards on icy streets during yesterday's mixture of rain and sleet.

The most serious auto accident, amounting to considerable damage to cars involved, happened to drivers Helen Zbinden, 22, of 523 Squires av., and Mrs. Lorene Houden, 48, of 1005 Hennepin av., yesterday at Second street and Monroe avenue.

The mishap occurred at noon yesterday when the car driven by Miss Zbinden, going east on Second street, collided with the vehicle operated by Mrs. Houden, who was going south on Monroe avenue. Slippery streets were seen sharp temperature drops.

Matthew Ridgeway, during reception for delegates of the 14 NATO nations, given by French President Vincent Auriol, at Elysee palace. ## UN Committee Okays Six Countries for Membership

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Non-Communist nations gave overwhelming committee approval Friday night to U. N. membership for Japan, Libya, Jordan and three Indo-Chinese states. But there was little hope the applicants would escape a final Soviet veto.

The votes were a victory for the Western powers who also managed to beat down a Soviet bloc attempt to give membership to five Communist satellites in a package horse-swapping along with nine Western-backed applicants.

The 60-nation Assembly's Special Political Committee agreed by big margins to increase its number to 65 by bringing in U.S.-sponsored Japan, Arab-sponsored Libya and Jordan and the French-backed states of Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. Only the five Soviet bloc members voted "No."

The results forecast more than the two-thirds majority required in the full General Assembly, which is expected to reach a vote on the proposed new members by Sunday or Monday at the latest. But the membership applications still must go to the Security Council where Russia is expected once again to hatchet them with the veto which has kept the question of new members in deadlock for six years.

Russia has consistently refused to let in any members unless her own candidates — Romania, Hungary, Albania, Bulgaria and Outer Mongolia — are also approved.

Christmas Business Booms, Stores Say

NEW YORK—Christmas business is so good, says a Charlotte, N. C. merchant, that he even has a brisk demand for $50 neckties. They are made of velvet, woven with pure gold.

Denver's three biggest department stores agree that Yule business is "substantially heavier" and will set new records.

In Chicago President Joel Goldblatt of Goldblatt Brothers Inc., reports:

"We're running 10 per cent ahead right now. If it keeps up it will be the biggest Christmas business in our history."

Take Survey

These enthusiastic comments are typical of others obtained in an Associated Press survey of Christmas shopping trends in 24 cities. From coast to coast it's pretty much the same story: stores bulging with shoppers, downtown parking lots jammed, holiday buyers spending more money.

The one big exception is New York. John Raasch, president of Wanamaker's New York store, reports sales running behind last year "and I doubt if we'll pick up what we've lost." He blames transportation difficulties, competition of convenient suburban shopping centers and—most of all—the city sales tax of three cents on the dollar.

All Wanamaker stores outside New York expect to better last year's volume.

No Parking

Two universal complaints in the country at large are lack of parking facilities for shoppers and a shortage of trained sales help.

In Kansas City the downtown shopping district is so jammed with cars that operators of outlying parking lots are supplying "shuttle-bus" service for their patrons. Philadelphia has banned all parking of passenger cars in the central city area.

Macy's New York licked the help problem by interviewing 27,000 applicants for part-time Christmas work. Six thousand were hired.

Most retailers agree that the shortage of help stems from current full employment and general prosperity — the same influences that are bringing record crowds of shoppers into the stores.

Changed buying habits here and there are attributed to the imminent change in the national administration.

GOP Victory Helps

The Republican victory is credited elsewhere with loosening the purse strings of higher-income shoppers. Indisputably there has been a big gain in Christmas sales in the plush type of store commonly associated with such famous-name streets as Fifth Avenue in New York or Michigan Boulevard in Chicago.

Lower prices are luring shoppers into Indianapolis stores, with demand holding up for all classes of merchandise except TV. A record volume appears likely.

Two of the biggest department stores in St. Louis note a "tremendous demand" for toys.

Handy Wallpaper Camouflage Changes Problem Room Mood

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the second of four articles that show the way to keep your home decorating budget down by getting in on the job yourself. The apartment used as a "clinic" serves, in miniature, to illustrate the decorating problems of any size home.

By GAILLE DUGAS
NEW YORK—Wallpaper can act as a very handy camouflage. We found this out when we tackled the redecorating job in our problem apartment.

The living-room was small and rather dark. For such a room, the best color cue comes from nature. Soft blues and greens lend a feeling of spaciousness and great expense.

We picked a lush tropical mural of the Haitian beaches (Murals, Inc.) showing fishermen and their nets. The blues, greens, corals and yellow of the tropical foliage, together with the lovely colors of the sea, sky, lagoon and mountains, gave us our key to color for the balance of the room.

This mural was used on the one unbroken wall to expand the room afforded. As is so often true in old houses, this room had three walls broken by windows, a fireplace, a built-in bookcase and doors. The mural opened up that one wall and created a vista for the mind and the eye.

If your furniture should look stranded in a room that's too large, try wallpaper in deep, warm colors and don't be afraid of bold, large patterns. (They needn't be cabbage roses.) They'll pull your walls together to create a cosier effect. Horizontal stripes and dark ceilings help to detract from the height of a room.

Pick a pattern that tells a story for the room in which it's used. A bright Parisian cafe scene sets the mood for a dining-room or alcove. Similarly, a silver background paper with a pattern of pretty fans and powder puffs is right for a dressing-room.

In our case, the apartment owner had once visited Port-au-Prince and had very happy memories of it. Hence, the Haitian mural.

Because our room was on the dark side, we painted the major wall area sandy yellow with a citron cast. This was a half-and-half blend of citron yellow and ivory. We had another problem in an extra-high, 13-foot ceiling, which we lowered through illusion.

We simply painted the ceiling and a two-foot overhang border in a soft blue-green, and used this color again as a dramatic accent for the recessed wall bookcase. When we were finished, the ceiling seemed lower and the room much less austere.

Next: Changing an entrance hall from an eyesore to a place of beauty.

Water - Cultured Plants Brighten Winter Days

By HENRY PREE

Written for NEA Services

There are numerous house plants, very attractive for window decorations, that will grow in water without being potted in soil. Whether they are grown in transparent or opaque containers makes no difference. Theoretically, an opaque container is to be preferred because, in general, roots tend to shun light.

On the other hand, the roots themselves are often decorative and when plants are grown in a transparent vase, and the vase is kept in the window, it is interesting to see how the leaves and shoots turn toward the light, while the roots grow away from it.

Some plants suitable for water culture will grow indefinitely in water, while others must be regarded as being of a temporary nature.

One of several plants well adapted to water culture in the house is decorative English Ivy.

One of the most tolerant of plants is the Chinese or Japanese evergreen, algionema modestum, a native of Malaysia. This will thrive even if it does not get much light and it may live for five or six years in water, although it will grow better if it is planted in soil. Its culture is simple. You merely take the long shoots and stick them in a vase of water.

The Chinese evergreen is related to the Jack-in-the-Pulpit and the calla lily. There are tropical plants other than algionema belonging to the same family which are adapted to water culture. Among them are the relatively small-leaved trailing or climbing philodendrons and pothos.

Another trailing plant, well adapted to water culture in the house, is the English ivy. This must be kept under cool conditions during the winter. If it is grown at ordinary room temperature it is desirable to keep it between the window curtains and the glass of the window where the air is likely to be cooler than that of the room proper. The container may be suspended from the window frame.

Another type of easily grown plant is known by the general term of "Wandering Jew." There are three distinct genera—tradescantia, zebrina and commelina to name a few.

The sweet potato is easily grown in water. To grow this, a container should be chosen with an opening large enough to admit the tuber so that part of it is within the container and the other part in the open air. The tuber produces long, trailing shoots, clothed with leaves.

Cut two inches from the upper part of a carrot and stand it in a shallow dish of water. In the course of a few weeks fern-like leaves will be produced.

An efficient laundry, well-lighted and providing plenty of dry floor space, is a safe laundry.

A hand rail or no-skid mat is valuable in preventing falls in the tub. And a storage cabinet—well out of the reach of children—for matches, medicines or other dangerous articles may prevent a fatal mistake.

Safety comes into the home when it is invited and remains as long as it is worked for.

Home safety is not an intangible something that just happens. On the contrary, it is easily recognized and results from a conscious effort to make the home a safe place to live.

Safety is found in the sturdy ladder or step stool which replaced the makeshift ladder for reaching high shelves.

It is found in electrical appliances and wiring which have been checked by a qualified electrician and put in good working condition.

Safety lies in well-lighted stairways provided with hand rails for steady support. Stairs that have been cleared of all obstacles are safe stairs.

Basements, attics and utility rooms which have been made neat and clean reduce the possibility of home fires.

And in this same category, accumulations of old clothing, newspapers, magazines and other flammable debris are safely stored in galvanized steel storage cans. These all-metal containers have close-fitting covers and provide fire-proof storage for waste materials until they can be disposed of permanently.

Trees Increase Threat of Fire Over Holidays

The Christmas tree, center of holiday festivities in most American homes, can easily become the center of tragedy, warns the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Because a fir tree is filled with pitch and resin, it is one of the most combustible objects known—and once ignited, it burns so rapidly that it is virtually impossible to extinguish.

"Keep Christmas merry," advises the Board. "Follow these safety rules and avoid a fire in your home during the Christmas season."

1. Choose a small tree. It's less dangerous than a large one.
2. Don't set it up until a few days before Christmas. Until then, keep it outdoors.
3. Place it in the coolest part of the house, away from fireplaces or radiators. And don't let it block an exit.

4. Stand it in water, or use a live tree planted in a tub of earth.
5. Never use cotton or paper for decoration on or around the tree.
6. Do not put electric trains under the tree.

7. Use only electric lights, never candles, and see that the wires are not frayed. Be sure the wiring sets for lights you choose are marked as having been inspected by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

8. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off. Don't plug or unplug them beneath the tree.
9. Throw away all gift wrappings as soon as the presents have been opened; don't let them pile up near the tree.

10. Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is home.
11. If needles near the lights turn brown, move the lights.
12. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.

Many tobacco products have nicotine in them, but chewing tobacco has the most.

Old House Made New Again

A good example of how an old house can be given new life with today's economical building materials is this home in Kingsville, Md., which was built about a century ago by slave labor. New roofing and siding were applied to the house to start its second hundred years. Asphalt shingles now protect this historic dwelling from weather and fire. The dark roof also offers pleasant contrast with the white asbestos-cement siding, and it helps to make the house look lower than it actually is. A light or bright roof would make the house seem higher.

Kids Rough; Santa Quits In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS—Santa Claus quit because "the kids played too rough."

Harold Barker, an 18-year-old freshman student at Loyola University of the South, decided Friday that his role as Santa Claus at a New Orleans gasoline station was just too rugged.

All he had to do was give away lollipops and balloons and act cheerful.

Barker became frustrated and frazzled an hour after he reported for work Thursday when about 200 children decided to take matters in their own hands.

They grabbed all the balloons and lollipops and in the confusion, Santa quit.

Nation Slights Schools Today, Pays Consequences Tomorrow

The American people are carrying the highest tax burdens in their history. They are supporting the biggest peace-time defense effort and lending heavy assistance to other parts of the free world. So this is no time to scold them for not digging deeper into their pocketbooks.

Yet some of their domestic problems soon will be getting seriously out of hand if more funds are not directed toward meeting them. The deteriorating condition of U. S. highways, frequently remarked upon, is one such problem. Another is the declining physical adequacy and educational quality of the nation's schools.

Not long ago a commission of top educators examined the financing difficulties of the colleges and universities. Its report was bleak. Now the New York Times has completed another college survey and its findings are no rosier.

One of every three liberal arts colleges—as distinguished from technical and other special institutions—is running in the red. This ratio is higher among the small independent schools, which are harder hit all the way. Even schools partly supported by religious groups are having trouble.

But red ink is far from the story. Schools are reducing their teaching staffs. Some have begun to lower academic standards to keep going at all. In other words, the financial pressures, fought off for so long, at last are starting to be felt by students in the shape of poorer education.

How long can we countenance a developing degradation of educational standards? Proudly the experts tell us these days that we are enjoying the highest standards of living we have ever known. It is indeed comforting that our stomachs are so well cared for. It is reassuring also that we can provide the defenses to keep us secure.

But what about the minds of our young, the leaders of tomorrow? Our civilization will not in the end amount to much if we are content merely to live the lives of well-protected vegetables.

Our colleges are the foundation of learning. Here the unknown is explored, and here the fruit of exploration is passed on to the young people who later will try to guide their country to ever higher destiny.

With all our tax burdens, we had better give some pretty hard thought to this before we stand by and watch our crucial educational standards slide further. We are playing with our country's, and perhaps the world's future.

Odd Behavior for an Ogre

In the excesses of presidential campaigning, each side paints the other pretty black. When it's all over, this tends to fade into gray, and the respective portraits of the campaigners come into a bit more realistic focus.

For instance, General Eisenhower was pictured by his opponents as something of an ogre, who was going to plunge us into a third world war, precipitate a depression for the sheer joy of it, and toss labor into chains.

Except for President Truman and some other die-hards who view an opposition victory as a crime against humanity, most of this reckless talk has vanished.

Eisenhower's true personality may be helping mightily to dispel the false image. Lately he's been up to some things which must be rather irritating to those intent on keeping intact the picture of him as an inhumane character.

The other day in Hawaii, on his last morning, he got up to play golf at 7:30 with a young officer who dutifully had lugged his golfbag 36 holes the two previous days. Also in Hawaii, he invited to dinner a young woman who had herself asked him out to dine, thinking he might want a good home-cooked meal away from bigwigs. Her husband was asked along.

Then, the night he arrived back in New York, Ike was serenaded with Christmas carols by a score of college girls who camped on his doorstep at Columbia University. He and Mamie stood outside a long time, singing with the girls, requesting numbers, and having a high time. Finally the secret service men had to shoo him inside.

Pretty odd behavior for an ogre bent on plunging us all into despair.

List 10 Commandments for Having Fun From Life

Have you ever noticed that the women who seem to get the most fun out of life have a few qualities in common?

One: They are willing to go out or have friends in at a moment's notice. You never hear them saying disconsolately, "Well, I don't think I'd better. I hadn't counted on it."

Two: They enjoy a variety of activities. So they are more likely to say "Yes" to an invitation than the women who like to do only a few things.

Three: They like a great many people. That means that a great many people like them and like to include them when planning an outing or a party.

Four: They keep their wardrobes, whether large or small, in order, so that they never have to stay home because they "haven't a thing to wear."

Five: They aren't overly critical of other people or of their way of doing things.

Six: They don't take life or themselves too seriously. So they can usually make an amusing story out of their trials and tribulations instead of boring others with sad tales of their troubles and problems.

Seven: They do their work easily so that it isn't always pushing them or driving them.

Eight: They can make themselves congenial in almost any group.

Nine: They don't go in for a bored, world-weary attitude. Instead they are interested and gay and willing to take a chance.

Ten: They are likely to make the initial effort toward turning an acquaintance into a friend. They don't just think "The Browns seem like an interesting couple. I'd like to know them better." They extend the first invitation.

So it isn't just chance that some women seem to get more fun out of living than others. There are a number of good reasons WHY they do.

Crippled Freighter Nears Port

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U)—The Canadian freighter Maplecove limped toward Vancouver today, using her damaged rudder like a splintered crutch.

After temporary repairs to her steering gear in mid-Pacific, the 10,000-ton merchantman strained portward at 10 knots, trying to bring her 62 crew members home in time for Christmas.

The Maplecove and the rescue tug Island Sovereign, dispatched from Vancouver Thursday night, were closing at a combined speed of 22 knots.

The Maplecove, bound from Yokohama to Vancouver, broke down Thursday 1,200 miles west of here. She shrugged off an angry gale and made repairs which enabled her to resume travel.

Congressman Demurs in Kissing Scene, But Actress Gives Hubby's Consent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Rep. Wingate Lucas (D., Tex.) has proved that he is no man to go around recklessly kissing pretty girls at any opportunity. At a recent luncheon here honoring stage and screen star Mary Martin, Lucas was slated to give her a fancy scroll, naming her "admiral of the Texas Navy." She is a native Texan.

To put some action in his picture, United Press photographer Milton Freier asked Lucas to plant a big smacker on the lady as he made the presentation. Lucas blushing protested, saying, "I can't do that, what would Mary's husband say?"

Overhearing the conversation she said: "Why Representative Lucas, you don't have to worry about that. My husband wouldn't object to Texans kissing Texans."

ANOTHER "SECRET" LOST?
More than half of the dwindling National Production Authority staff is busily engaged in writing a "Mobilization Base Book." It's being done mostly to keep everybody busy, while they wait for the agency to fold. It's supposed to be a guide for the next group of defense production experts who come to town.

However, the fate of the publication is expected to be the same as for a similar book printed during the dying days of the old War Production Board. It was classified as top secret and got lost in the files.

SKELETON NPA PROPOSED
With the need for production controls now at a minimum, there is a proposal to keep a sort of skeleton NPA in existence for any future emergency. It would exist under the Department of Commerce and consist of a small crew just keeping statistics and a weather eye on the production situation.

"WE WUZ ROBBED!"
Washington's big corps of high-priced tax attorneys are a little upset about the reorganization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. It decentralizes the authority to settle many types of tax cases to bureau officials in the field.

This means that a man with a big tax problem on his hands no longer has to come to Washington to get it settled. Obviously, the town's tax attorneys are going to suffer from this. The tax lawyers in the cities where a bureau district office is located, on the other hand, will benefit.

UNUSUAL PROTEST
George Meany, new president of the American Federation of Labor, said with dead pan seriousness that he was somewhat offended when Scripps-Howard's Labor Editor Fred Perkins characterized him as "an amateur golfer of some repute." The reason was that this seemed to say Meany was a good golfer. He insists he isn't.

The reason for this is that Meany is handicapper for a group of golfers who play together often, and Meany insists on keeping himself at the bottom of the list, with the highest handicap. It's what Meany calls "collective bargaining on the first tee."

Meany followed President-elect Eisenhower's golf scores at Augusta with a great deal of interest. If a match between the two ever comes off, Meany insists he "will have to give him a few strokes."

PLUMBERS' RESOURCES
Meany was introduced at a Washington Press Club luncheon as "the son of a plumber." It got a nice, quiet laugh. But when he started to speak, Meany immediately came to the defense of the plumbers, with whose union he has long been affiliated.

"People who underestimate the resourcefulness of a plumber," said the big, balding and blue-eyed labor official, "never got a bill from one."

NEWS FILES TO REUTHER
One of the advantages which Walter Reuther will now have, as president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, is that he'll now get his copy of the CIO News by airmail.

A reporter waiting in the CIO offices heard the staff very carefully changing the records to make sure that the new president got this extra service formerly enjoyed only by his predecessor, the late Phil Murray.

ROUNDOABOUT "OKAY"
Retiring Secretary of Commerce Sawyer just got back from a 30-day survey of European business which he said had been "okayed by Ike." The way in which the trip was approved by President-elect Dwight Eisenhower was rather indirect but it did provide an approval.

Secretary Sawyer wanted to take a couple of other American businessmen with him. They were Charles R. Hook, president of Armco, and Langbourne Williams, head of American Sulphur.

Hook is a Republican and a supporter of Eisenhower. So before he accepted the invitation to go on a junket with the Democratic Secretary of Commerce, he said he would have to get approval from the Republican President-elect.

Ike wrote back that the trip was a fine idea, he had the highest respect for Sawyer, and that Hook should accompany him.

ELECTION AFTERTHOUGHT
Some comments on the results of the election by James L. McDevitt, director of Labor's League for Political Education:

"Our political education program prevented a reactionary sweep in Congress. In the Senate we are only two seats worse off than we were before, with 38 friends as compared to 40 in the last Senate.

"Although four Senate friends of labor were defeated, the score was more than balanced by the election of Henry Jackson in place of Sen. Harry Cain in Washington, Stuart Symington over Sen. James Kern in Missouri, Mike Mansfield over Sen. Zales Ecton in Montana and the election of John Kennedy, who replaces Senator Lodge in Massachusetts.

"It might be added that Harding, Coolidge and Hoover all won by better margins than did Eisenhower."

YOU HAVE IKE'S NUMBER
This month the White House, like every residence and firm in Washington, got a new telephone number. Instead of National 1414 it is now National 81414. The capital has expanded so much since the war that the telephone company had to revise the city's whole dial system.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Think You Are Safe? Look Again

When your contract seems quite safe, it may still pay you to take a second look at the hand. Will you still be safe if the key suit breaks badly?

South failed to ask himself this question when he played today's hand. He took the first trick in dummy with the queen of clubs and stubbed his toe by cashing the king of hearts. The 5-0 break in hearts was horrible, to be sure, but declarer deserved no sympathy. He could, and should, have taken out insurance against a bad break in the key heart suit.

Once South had made his fatal play in hearts, the slam was unmakeable. If South tried to develop the spades, East would get two spade tricks.

If South had taken a second look at the hand before beginning to play it, he would have seen that the contract was quite safe unless one opponent had all five hearts. In order to provide against this danger, the best play is to lead a low heart (instead of the king of hearts) at the second trick.

If East happens to follow suit, South can provide against the worst possible break by finessing the jack. If East happens to discard (as he would in this case) South can play the ace of hearts and can then return the deuce of hearts toward dummy.

Dummy's king-seven of hearts remain to prevent West from winning two heart tricks. South can easily develop four heart tricks and thus make his slam.

Q—The bidding has been:

| North    | East | South   | West |
|----------|------|---------|------|
| 1 Heart  | Pass | 1 Spade | Pass |
| 2 Spades | Pass | ?       | ?    |

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-2, Hearts J-J-4-3, Diamonds 3-2, Club 2. What do you do?

A—Bid four hearts. With your count of 16 points there is no question about wanting to be in game. (You count 10 points for high cards, 1 extra for the queen of hearts, 2 for length in spades, 2 for the singleton, and 1 for the doubleton.)

Your bidding indicates that have preferred a double raise from one heart to three hearts at your first chance.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9-4, Hearts Q-2, Diamonds A-Q-J-5, Clubs J-5. What do you do?

Someone is talking about how wonderful the food is at a certain restaurant—and you have just the opposite opinion.

WRONG! Say, "I think the food is terrible. I went there once and made up my mind never to go back."

RIGHT! Realize that such a remark is the same as saying, "You don't know good food from poor food."

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Methods of Modern Surgery Do Much for Osteomyelitis

"Since I have had osteomyelitis off and on a great deal of my life," writes C. R., "I should like to know a little about it." This is certainly a reasonable request; anyone who has a chronic disease of this sort is vitally interested in knowing something about it.

Osteomyelitis is a disease of the bones. It results from invasion by germs which destroy the bone and produce pus. This disease has been known for centuries; signs of osteomyelitis have been found in the bones of ancient man, buried for thousands of years.

Until recently treatment has been discouraging and difficult. Severe cases even as late as the 18th century were treated by amputation of the limb. All kinds of strange mixtures were applied to the tissues around the infected bone, including herbs, powders from mummies, egg yolk and crushed body lice.

One of the most interesting forms of treatment has been the use of maggots. Maggots eat only tissue that is dead. Thus, if they are placed in an area containing dead bone and other dead cells, they destroy the dead material and clean up the cavity without harming that part of the bone which is alive and healthy.

When they have completed their job, they can be removed easily,

DAY AND NIGHT—There's more than snow falling in Korea. Day and night, around the clock, United Nations artillery is pounding hill positions held by the North Korean and Chinese Communist forces. At top, an 8-inch howitzer fires on enemy positions on the Triangle Hill sector of the front. At bottom, a battery goes into action during the night. Artillery duels are stepping up as troops begin to dig in for the winter.

Reveal Ammunition Shortage in Korea

TOKYO (U) — The ammunition supply problem in Korea believed to be of concern to President-elect Eisenhower had a noticeable effect in the recent bloody battle for the Kumhwa ridges.

At one point, at the crux of the infantry fight, a hold-down order reported by frontline officers put a strict lid on the amount of artillery ammunition that could be fired in one day.

"Real Boney" Responsible American officers engaged in the battle called this "one of the few real boners" of the U.N. command in the Kumhwa action.

The hold-down order in the Kumhwa battle, in effect for several days at the end of October, resulted in the Communists outshooting the Allies by a devastating 2½-to-1 for a time. Then the high command threw economy to the winds and poured guns and shells into the sector in the greatest artillery concentration since World War II.

The U.N. artillery quickly dominated the situation, but proved unable to suppress completely the Red guns and mortars.

The temporary shortage came at the crisis of the battle when the South Koreans had been thrown off Triangle Hill and were trying to regain it. They never were able to withstand the Red shellfire long enough to consolidate their gains.

Many Republic of Korea (ROK) leaders, fearing the day when U.N. troops may pull out, frequently try to obtain and hoard great quantities of rifle, mortar and artillery ammunition.

Other ROK commanders, with no experience in supply problems, since all ammunition comes from the U. S., have often been unrealistic and uneconomical in pumping it out.

One particular shortage believed to be extra acute is in stocks of "VT" ammunition—the ultra-modern proximity-fused shells that detonate by radar above ground and are devastating against troops in the open.

"You've got to explain where every one of those is going," one American artilleryman said wryly during the Kumhwa battle. For the greater part of the Korean War, the U. S. Army has been using up reserve stocks of artillery ammunition left over from World War II. This ammo has been excellently preserved and has always appeared plentiful. Now, however, artillerymen say new ammunition is coming through, indicating that the old surplus stocks have been used up and new manufacturing is needed.

U. S. Traitor Dies in Cell

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (U) — The death of Robert Henry Best, serving a life sentence for treason by broadcasting Nazi propaganda during World War II, was reported today.

Officials of the U.S. Medical Center for Federal Prisoners here disclosed Best died last Tuesday after what a spokesman described as an "illness of some time."

The body was shipped yesterday to Spartanburg, S. C.

Prison records gave his address as Vienna, Austria, and his next-of-kin as his wife, Erna. No address was listed for Mrs. Best.

Best, an American newspaper man, was convicted of treason in federal court at Boston, April 16, 1948. He later was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000. Three years later the U. S. Supreme Court refused a review of the case.

Best had been at the medical center here since August, 1951.

The 56-year-old former Sumter, S. C., newsman, was accused of giving aid and comfort to the enemy and that he intended to betray the United States. Best admitted he had made 300 broadcasts from Germany between 1942 and 1945.

Reds Release One of Four Seized Americans

BERLIN (U) — One of four American soldiers reported missing in the Soviet zone was released by Russian officials Thursday night shortly after a Soviet-licensed news agency claimed that two of the others have asked for political asylum in East Germany. There was no word on the fourth.

The released man was M/Sgt. William T. Rice, Farmville, Va. He had been seized by armed East German police Tuesday while supervising a group of German workers posting signs marking the boundary between the U.S. and Soviet sectors in Berlin. Acting U. S. Commandant David M. Maynard, angrily protested the incident.

Seek Asylum The Russian-licensed ADN news agency said earlier that two U.S. soldiers, whom it identified as Pvt. Linmont Night and Raymond V. Michalowski, had sought asylum in the East zone.

The U. S. Army previously announced that Michalowski, of Perth Amboy, N. J., and Pvt. Lieutenant Night, Los Angeles, were arrested last month when they accidentally rode into the Soviet sector on an interurban train.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson, U. S. Commandant in Berlin, has made repeated demands for the release of the two men.

In Perth Amboy, Michalowski's mother sobbingly told a reporter: "It's not true, it's not true. He hated communism as much as we do. My boy hates Communists."

No Word of 4th The fourth missing American is Lt. Horace J. Sincore of Homestead, Fla. He is believed to have crossed into the East zone inadvertently Nov. 24. The Russians have evaded any clear answer as to his whereabouts.

American authorities say they are convinced Soviet frontier guards have been ordered to grab any American they can lay their hands on in reprisal for the flight of Russian Pvt. Alexander Kulikov to West Berlin three weeks ago. U. S. authorities announced he sought asylum.

Rock Falls Nips Ducks, 65-56

By JERRY GENGLE

Repercussions sounded in the Dixon locker room at Rock Falls last night following the final minutes of Coach Elwin Duhm's Rockets over the Ducks. Lon Scofield figured his Ducks had been subjects of bum refereeing which had sent two of his players from the game in the last three minutes on personal fouls.

Scofield, however, did not dwell on the unfair loss of Jim Gorman, who had controlled backboards for Dixon throughout the game. Gorman left when the game was still in contention with three minutes left. From that point the Rockets burned to a 2-point win.

Scofield attacked what he said was obvious evidence of incompetence in officiating of the game. A disagreement between the two officials on an out-of-bounds ball eventually was placed in control of the Rockets.

Scofield declared:

"A call by one referee that's disputed by the other automatically calls for a jump ball. The rules were violated by the referees in that decision."

The Dixon mentor also asserted that he had not had an opportunity to pass on the referees chosen by Rock Falls. He said their names had never been submitted to him before the game, as required by regulations.

The fact that Gorman felt some of the fouls called against him during the game were unjust was apparent from his attitude at one point of the game.

His jersey number was called out after a whistle sounded. Re- signed, Gorman smiled and shrugged his shoulders in a hopeless gesture. Then, as the ref carried the ball to the other end of the floor, it became apparent the foul had been on a Rock Falls player with the same jersey number.

Regardless of whether Dixon's cause was or was not injured by the referees, in this writer's opinion the excessive whistle-blowing of the game is an example of officiating that is damaging basketball as a highly competitive sport. Minor brushes in scrimmages for the ball invariably brought a whistle from one of the referees and resulted in more dead time spent at the free throw line.

The game was hotly contested throughout. But fighting this spirit of the players were the interruptions by the whistles on action that had no material effect upon the game.

The subsequent time spent at the free-throw line by both teams was prevented from becoming burdensome to spectators only by virtue of the contest's close score.

Officials must guard against reducing a basketball game to a mere passing, dribbling and shooting exhibition. The rivalry prompted by spirit to win must not suffer from over-zealous officiating if the game is to continue as a highly interesting sport for spectators and players alike.

No, Fans, Billy Graham Was Last Night's Winner!

NEW YORK (AP)—Chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York State Athletic commission is in the middle of an old-fashioned reshuffle because he reversed an official's score card to give Billy Graham a split decision win over Joe Giardello in the usual Friday night contest at Madison Square Garden.

The television customers must be shocked. They heard Giardello proclaimed the winner. Then a few minutes later ring announcer Johnny Addie made Joey "an unofficial winner, subject to a review of the cards."

Reverses Card

Long after the disgruntled crowd of 2,228 paying $6.64 had left the darkened Garden, Christenberry came up with his reversal that made Graham the winner. Graham, a New Yorker, incidentally weighed 145 to 161½ for the Philadelphia contest puncher.

Judge Joe Agnello's card, originally scored for Giardello 8-4 in rounds, was the one that upset Christenberry. Agnello had scored the 10th round for Giardello while both the other officials gave it to Graham.

Christenberry, in a move believed to be unprecedented, changed the 10th round. Instead of a one point round for Giardello, he made it a two point round for Graham on the Angelo card. He also changed the fourth round from a one-pointer for Graham to a two-point round for Graham.

As a result Agnello's final and "official" card came out even 5-5 in rounds with Graham the winner on points 7-6. That was the decisive ballot as the other officials split. Judge Charley Shortell found for Graham 7-3 and Referee Ray Miller voted for Giardello 5-4-1.

"It was my honest opinion that the man (Graham) was entitled to it," said Christenberry as he made the reversal in the official's dressing room. "I'd quit rather than condone anything else."

The small crowd made as much noise as a full house in venting its disapproval of the original verdict: while a heartbroken Graham stood with head down in his corner.

Christenberry's later visit with the good news brought a grin to his face.

Bulldogs in 56-46 Win Over Wyand

Vail's Unbeaten Club Tangles With DePue High Tonight

OHIO—(Special)—Ohio's Bulldogs were forced to apply steam in the final quarter here last night before they subdued Wyand, 56-46, in a Little Eight conference game. It was the sixth win for Ohio without a defeat.

Coach Chuck Vail's five led by only two points going into the final period but outscored Wyand 13-5 in the finale to capture the victory.

It was a rough game with a total of 45 fouls being called. Ohio lost two on fouls while Wyand lost one. Both clubs were cold at the free throw line. Ohio missed 20 chances in 38 while Wyand missed 24 attempts of 38.

Ohio's well-balanced punch was spear-headed by Carl Morgensen, who piled in 20 points for high point honors of the night.

Last night's victory sent the Bulldogs into tonight's clash with unbeaten DePue at DePue, both with unbeaten states. DePue will be gunning for its seventh consecutive victory tonight also.

In last night's junior varsity clash, Wyand took the measure of the junior Bulldogs, 36-23.

Kansas State Downs Irish Easily, 80-64

DETROIT (AP)—Kansas State hardly worked up a sweat coasting to a surprisingly easy 80-64 victory over Notre Dame Friday night in the first round of the Spartan Basketball Tournament at Michigan State College.

Michigan State, the host team, gave UCLA a rough battle before losing a 60-55 decision to the Californians in the second game.

Kansas State is scheduled to make mince meat of Michigan State tonight. UCLA will take on Notre Dame with the humiliated Irish a favorite in the other second round game.

Seis Record

The Kansas State-Notre Dame score set a new record for the tournament, topping the old high by Minnesota in its 75-62 victory over Dartmouth in 1951.

Kansas State was ahead 44-28 at the half and showed consistency by winning by an identical 16 point margin.

UCLA and Michigan State were tied at 24-24 with four minutes to go in the first half, but the Californians got hot and led 33-25 at the intermission.

Michigan State was within two points of tying the game in the final period. Substitute guard Bob Devenny missed a field goal and UCLA grabbed the ball and hit one more basket and a free throw.

CARL TO BE ACTOR

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of baseball's great southpaws, Carl Hubbell, is turning actor next spring. King Carl, the New York Giants' winning pitcher for years and now head of their farm system, will portray his own life in the movie "The Big Leaguer." Starring with him will be the film's tough guy, Edward G. Robinson.

A total of 7,903,590 fans attended pari-mutuel harness racing at tracks in 11 states during 1952.

Senators Clash Over Filibusters

WASHINGTON—U.S. Senatorial filibusters and plans to stop them were each called "goon squad tactics" Friday night by two Democratic senators whose views clash on the hot controversy.

In Atlanta, Sen. Russell of Georgia told the Atlanta Constitution the Senate is no place for "goon squad tactics." He was commenting on an anti-filibuster strategy conference called by Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Humphrey apprised in Washington of Russell's statement, said: "The only goon squad tactics I know of is the tactic of the filibuster, which is ruled by a minority without regard for majority opinion."

Russell led a Southern group which used the filibuster-unlimited debate—as its Sunday punch line in knocking out President Truman's fair employment practices commission and other civil rights legislation proposals.

Humphrey, a champion of Truman's civil rights program, said Friday he and other senators opposed to filibustering would meet Dec. 30 in Washington for a strategy conference. The idea, he said, was to evolve a plan for relaxing Senate Rule 22 which requires a vote of 66 senators, two-thirds of the entire membership, to cut off debate.

A motion to adopt new Senate rules would be made at the outset of the new session.

Parted Couple Given a 50-50 Deal by Judge

CHICAGO—Superior Judge Peter H. Schwab set a "half-way" measure Friday to settle a dispute between a man and his estranged wife over visits to their child.

Gilbert Howarth, 30, an industrial merchandiser for a Chicago printing firm, is being sued for separate maintenance by Edna Howarth, 29, of Streator, Ill. Mrs. Howarth charged cruelty.

Mrs. Howarth has custody of their only child, Gilbert, 3, but Howarth has court permission to visit the child each Sunday.

Howarth's counsel told Judge Schwab that the weekly automobile trips to Streator and back are making a nervous wreck of his client.

It was explained that Howarth drives to Streator, brings the child back to Chicago and then returns the child to his home each Sunday. "Why don't these parents meet one another half way?" Judge Schwab asked. He proposed the mother bring the child to Joliet each Sunday and that Howarth meet the child there. That will cut mileage in half.

The agreement was worked out by attorneys for both sides.

See Continued Federal Aid to Impacted Schools

WASHINGTON—A key congressional figure said today he believed the new Republican Congress will continue federal aid to the states for construction of schoolhouses in areas of concentrated government activity.

Rep. Sam McConnell (R-Pa.), slated to become chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee in the 83rd Congress, said today he considered federal aid to government "impacted" areas of vital importance.

He also said he approved a general school construction in needy local school districts.

The so-called federally "impacted" districts are those which are unable to finance school services because a government project has brought an influx of workers whose children overtax existing facilities.

Another type of impacted district is one where federal acquisition of land and property removes it from the local tax rolls and reduces the tax income for school purposes.

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENT—Stewardess Pat Grubb is all dressed for a South American Christmas. The pretty stewardess is in charge of shipments of Christmas tree ornaments which travel via her airline from Miami to Latin American destinations, where the weather is summery at the holiday season. It would seem likely that Pat is the most ornamental item in each shipment.

Training Course Fire Destroys 68 Race Horses

WASHINGTON—U.S. President-elect Eisenhower obviously meant ammunition when, in reporting on his trip to Korea, he mentioned "serious" supply problems. An Army logistics expert said Friday, Maj. Gen. William O. Reeder, deputy chief of staff of G4, told a news conference there has been and still is rationing of ammunition in Korea. He said the Army doesn't have enough ammunition to satisfy organizational commanders who "shoot off everything they have on hand."

Lt. Gen. William B. Palmer, new Army chief of logistics, said ammunition rationing has cost no loss of life. There is plenty to go around now, he said, but any big offensive would take more.

Former Governor Of New Jersey Admits Note Plot

NEW YORK—Former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey admits he once offered to help an ex-convict flight manager smuggle a message to imprisoned gambler Joe Adonis.

But Hoffman, the Republican governor of the Garden State from 1935 to 1937, says he did not know that the flight manager, Aniello Ercole, had a criminal record.

Moreover, Hoffman adds, he was not himself acquainted with Adonis, reputedly a top underworld power.

The former governor, now New Jersey state director of employment, testified Friday before the New York State Crime Commission, which later recessed its current series of public hearings to an unspecified date in January.

No Legal Reason To Keep Mothers From Schoolroom

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—U.S. Florida's Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin says there is no legal reason to bar married girls in early stages of pregnancy, from attending public schools.

"It's questionable that a rule to bar married children from attending public schools would be reasonable or be to the best interest of the school or pupils and could be enforced," Ervin told state School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey Friday.

"It is commendable in married persons of school age to further their education and thereby be better fitted for life's work and its duties."

Bailey said he did not know how many married pupils are attending Florida schools but county school boards had often asked what should be done about them and he sought the attorney general's opinion.

Picket Two Quad-City Newspapers

MOLINE, Ill.—Mass picketing began early today at two of the four Quad-Cities newspapers where printers are striking but non-striking workers were permitted to pass to their jobs unmolested.

Officials of the Moline Dispatch and the Rock Island Argus said groups of 15 to 20 men stationed themselves at both the back and front doors of the two plants shortly after 6 a.m.

Police were summoned and employees were allowed to pass through the lines without incident. No mass picketing was reported at the Davenport, Ia., Times and Democrat, two other papers affected by last Monday's walkout of 128 AFL printers.

Dictated, Claims Publishers of the four newspapers said the strike of AFL printers "resulted primarily from demands dictated by the International Typographical Union."

A publishers' statement, issued Friday, said the current strike "was sold to the local union by some of the men who struck the Chicago newspapers and forced millions of dollars in losses to all concerned." The Chicago strike began Nov. 24, 1947, and ended Sept. 18, 1949.

There was no comment from the union immediately on the publishers' statement.

The strike of 128 printers started Monday. The four newspapers have continued publishing. They are the Davenport Times and Democrat, the Moline, Ill., Dispatch, and Rock Island, Ill., Argus.

No Dispute The publishers in their statement said jurisdiction over new printing processes, such as typesetter equipment, is not an issue, because past contracts have provided for automatic enlargement of union jurisdiction over new processes.

The statement said that in regard to the use of outside typesetter tape the strike "develops from demands of the International Typographical Union to control the flow of news" and to "write into local contracts that the union would set type in only such Associated Press, United Press and International News wire services news as the union cared to handle and reject other AP, UP and INS news as 'features'."

Right to Edit "That is not the way the publishers understand their obligation to conduct a free press and they have stood on their rights to edit their newspapers," the statement said.

R. E. Hall, federal mediator from Des Moines, continued his efforts to arrange a negotiating session between the publishers and the union.

Teenagers Held for Extortion

PITTSBURGH—FBI agents have arrested two teenage girls—one 14, the other 15—and charged them with attempting to extort a total of $20,000 from H. J. Heinz, president of the food firm bearing his name, and Arthur Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

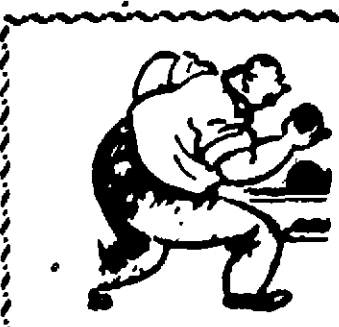

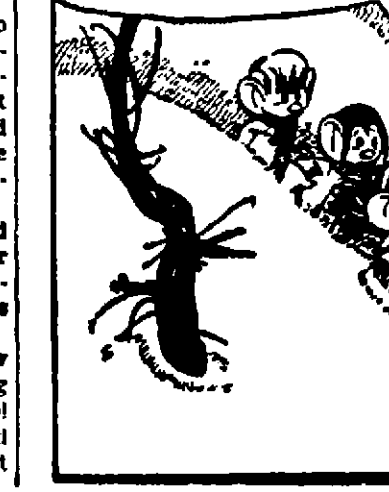

Fred Halford, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said his men had waited in vain six times for writers of extortion notes to the two prominent Pittsburghers to pick up the money they demanded. Then one night the two young girls walked into the darkness of a Northside Pittsburgh park and picked up a package lying on a bench that allegedly contained $12,000. Instead it held a bundle of paper, worthless.

Halford disclosed Friday night that the two girls had been arrested Thursday night. He declined to identify them, except to give their ages. He said both girls admitted writing the notes—in all—to Heinz, demanding $20,000 and to Rooney, demanding $10,000.

A couple of days ago David Kingston was born in Indianapolis. His share of the national debt is about $1600. This is fourteen times as much as it was when his father was born in 1925.

ENO LAKE. Ark.—U.S. Mourning friends and relatives stood bareheaded in a steady rain Friday as eight members of the John Hilton Bryant family were buried in a bleak little country cemetery.

The 29-year-old Bryant, his wife, Marie, 31, and six of their seven children were buried side-by-side. A specially-built coffin with six compartments that contained the bodies of the children was buried between the coffins of their parents.

The children were: Johnny, 9 months; Jean, 2; Ronnie, 4; Billie, 6; Patsy, 8; and Ruth Ann, 9. Only one member of the family survived the kerosene explosion and fire that destroyed the Bryants' three-room, frame home last Wednesday morning. Twelve-year-old Shirley, oldest of the couple's children, suffered severe burns, but attendants at a Little Rock hospital expect her to recover.

Unaware that her entire family is dead, Shirley still is planning to spend Christmas with her parents. The 12-year-old told her nurse Friday, "You know, there's only daddy and mommie and I left now."
